COOKIE POLICY

Last updated [23rd Feb 2021]

INTRODUCTION

Use of cookies

This cookie statement covers the recoveririshaviation.ie website.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files which are downloaded and saved to your computer or device when you visit a website. Your web browser (such as Internet Explorer, Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox or Safari) then sends these cookies back to the website every time you visit it again to remember things like your preferences. Cookies are sometimes sent to another website that uses them to record the user's online activity.

This website uses different types of cookies.

We use cookies that are set by third parties for user feedback and analytics.

This website uses cookies that are necessary to make the website work. They are explained in the table below.

When you set your cookie choices, a cookie will be saved on your device to remember your choices. You can change your preferences for any cookies at any time by your browser settings. We'll also ask you to re-confirm your cookie choices regularly.

Web browsers allow you to control your cookie choices through the browser settings. We've provided links to the most popular browsers' instructions below. If you use your browser settings to disable the cookies that are necessary to make this website work, it may affect how this website functions for you.

You can also use the browsers' instructions to delete cookies that were previously set on your device.

Cookies that are used on this website

_gid	Google Analytics
_ga	Google Analytics
gat_gtag	Google Analytics

Information on cookie settings for popular browsers

You can find out more about how to manage cookies on the most popular browsers at these links:

- Internet Explorer
- Chrome
- Firefox
- Safari

This cookie policy forms part of Recover Irish Aviation overall Privacy